

Dream Report Tech Note – July 28, 2015

Using a Wonderware Archestra.lic License file with Dream Report

Wonderware issues Dream Report licenses in their Archestra.lic license files. If Dream Report is installed on a PC/server without any Wonderware software installed, or if only a legacy Wonderware software component is installed, Wonderware's Archestra License Manager is required for Dream Report to recognize the Dream Report feature lines in an Archestra.lic license file.

A copy of the Archestra License Manager is included (but not installed, by default) with the Dream Report installation. After installing Dream Report, open Windows Explorer and browse to the `\ODS\Dream Report\Utilities\` folder, where you will find the file WW-LicenseServer.zip. Unzip and run the included setup file. Accept the defaults, and when prompted to load a license at the end of the installation, browse for the Archestra.lic file provided by your Wonderware distributor. The Archestra License Manager can be launched at any time to add/modify a Wonderware license from Start > All Programs > Wonderware > Common > Archestra License Manager.

To verify that Dream Report recognizes the license, open Dream Report Studio, and click Help > About Dream Report, where you should then see a dialog box indicating a Wonderware-issued license is being used:

Note:

If a license.dat file is present in the `\ODS\Dream Report\license\` folder, that license will always take precedence over the Archestra.lic file. To ensure that the Archestra.lic license is being used, make sure to delete all files from the `\ODS\Dream Report\license\` folder.